DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's Response filed January 31, 2002 has been place of record in the file as Paper No. 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sone (U.S. Patent No. 5,432,758). With regard to Claims 1-7, Sone discloses a transducer (Fig. 1) comprising a base (40) and having leads (22,24). See Figs. 1-3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sone (U.S. Patent No. 5,432,758) in view of the Applicant's admitted prior art. Sone discloses the claimed invention except for the transducer comprising a transductional device, which can be an opto-electronic device, or an electronic device. See Page 1, Lines 7-28.

Applicant's admitted prior art discloses the use of transductional devices that can be opto-electronic devices or electronic devices. See Page 1, Lines 7-18.

Thus, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to modify the transducer of Sone by including transductional devices that can be opto-electronic devices or electronic devices as taught in the Applicant's admitted prior art to provide efficient transmission of data.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed January 31, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to Applicant's argument regarding Claims 1 and 2 that Sone doesn't show leads configured to contact an I/O lead of an integrated circuit; Applicant is reminded that the integrated circuit is not positively recited. Furthermore, the claim requires the I/O lead to be configured to contact an I/O lead of an integrated circuit. Sone would read on the Applicant's claims because to perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense.

In response to Applicant's argument regarding Claims 1 and 2 that Sone doesn't show the term transducer as described in the Specification, Applicant misinterprets the principle that claims are interpreted in the light of the specification. Although these definitions are found as examples or embodiments in the specification, they were not claimed explicitly. Nor were the words that are used in the claims defined in the specification to require these limitations. A reading of the specification provides no evidence to indicate that these limitations must be imported into the claims to give meaning to disputed terms. Constant v. Advanced Micro-Devices Inc., 7 USPQ2d 1064.

In response to Applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the Examiner recognizes that references cannot be arbitrarily combined and that there must be some reason why one skilled in the art would be motivated to make the proposed combination of primary and secondary references. In re Nomiya, 184 USPQ 607 (CCPA 1975). However, there is no requirement that a motivation to make the modification be expressly articulated. The test for combining references is what the combination of disclosures taken as a whole would suggest to one of ordinary skill in the art. In re McLaughlin, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971). References are evaluated by what they suggest to one versed in the art, rather than by their specific disclosures. In re Bozek, In this case, it would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to modify the transducer of Sone by including transductional devices that can be opto-electronic devices or electronic devices as taught in the Applicant's admitted prior art to provide efficient transmission of data. Applicant's Claims are broad enough to read in the cited combination.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

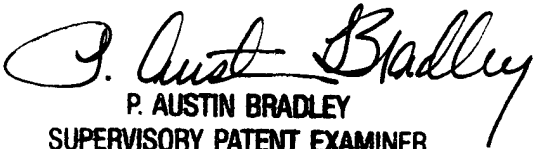

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
